

FATIGUE

Delayed Transformational Fatigue in Central & Eastern Europe: Responding to the Rise of Populism [FATIGUE]

Richard Mole, UCL

FATIGUE

Interdisciplinary research training

Year 1	Social Science Methods Research design Literature Review Mental health Academic English	All years <ul style="list-style-type: none">• One-to-one supervision• ESR-specific training:<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Foreign languages• Theory• Method• Content
Year 2	7 months at university overseas 3 months with non-academic partner Fieldwork
Year 3	Data analysis Discourse analysis How to get published Policy workshop Applying for a post-doc

FATIGUE

Non-academic partners	Role
European Bank for Reconstruction and Development British Library Amnesty International Transparency International World Jewish Congress Minority Rights Group	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Contributing to the content of the training programme;• Providing access to data, archival resources and additional expertise;• Giving specialist or employment-related presentations;• Offering secondment opportunities

FATIGUE

Academic partners	Relationship
UCL SSEES Charles University, Prague Jagiellonian University, Krakow Corvinus University of Budapest University of Tartu University of Belgrade	Before: Erasmus Mundus <ul style="list-style-type: none">• International Master's in Economy, State and Society• EUR 3,500,000 After: Horizon 2020 <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Populist Rebellion against Modernity in 21st-century Europe• EUR 3,000,000

Thank you!

Richard Mole
School of Slavonic and East European Studies
University College London

r.mole@ucl.ac.uk
<https://populism-europe.com/>